Portuguese A museum is a permanent institution in the service of society and its development and culture. A museum cannot keep proudly showing its belongings, insensitive to its occultations. Spanish Museums, in addition to being institutions in charge of preserving, researching, exhibiting, and teaching relevant cultural assets, are organisms that have an internal life, an intrahistory that emerges through those who work and collaborate in and with them, which emerges in all the cultural fruits that its activity develops: publications, studies, personalities.
